Study questions on Kisseberth\(^1\) article
Due Thursday, Oct 27 in class

Notes—this example should seem very familiar!
p. 293: “trilateral cluster” = CCC

p. 300: The point of the discussion here is to determine whether the [a] is underlying but sometimes deleted, or not underlying and sometimes inserted.

Questions
1. What is Kisseberth’s argument for why the standard theory is wrong to say that “there is no other way in which rules can be the ‘same’ except structurally”?

2. On p. 298, why does the fact that all CVCVC verbs have [i] as the second vowel support Kisseberth’s vowel epenthesis rule?
